It is our pleasure to invite you to the 14th triennial meeting of the Virology Section of the European Association of Potato Research (EAPR), which will be held in the land of the beautiful fjords and the endless summer nights. The preliminary programme consists of plenary talks, workshops, oral presentations, poster sessions and scientific excursions. The meeting will cover different aspects of virus research in potatoes, ranging from diagnosis and detection to plant-virus interactions. We encourage scientists, students, growers, seed potato producers and plant health officers to attend this meeting.

Welcome to Norway!

Scientific topics:

1. Resistance (conventional and transgenic)
2. Plant-virus interactions and evolution
3. Epidemiology and control
4. Emerging and quarantine diseases
5. Diagnostic and detection methods
6. Virus transmission
7. Soil-borne viruses

Getting there:

The most convenient way to reach Hamar is flying to Oslo International Airport, OSL, Gardermoen (<http://www.osl.no/en/osl>). Trains to Hamar depart every hour from the airport train station. The journey takes 55 minutes. For further information regarding departure times visit the Norwegian Railway site (NSB; http://www.nsb.no/?lang=en_US).

Please AVOID flying to the other two airports close to Oslo (Rygge and Sandefjord). These airports are rather far from Hamar and NO train connections are available.

• Venue

The meeting will be held in Hamar, Norway. Hamar is a small town near the large inland lake Mjøsa. The area around Hamar is one of the most important potato growing areas in Norway.
